

WELCOME

The importance of meetings is well documented in today's fast paced business environment. The sharing of ideas, facilitating better communication between departments, and focusing on a specific task or goal are only some of the things effective meetings can accomplish. A resort conference center offers a unique advantage for meetings that no metropolitan site can. A resort environment breaks down the barriers to communication we sometimes encounter. Your guests are more relaxed, in comfortable clothes and peaceful surroundings. A sense of the team is developed, and some of the best ideas arise when you'd least expect it.

At Breezy Point we know how important your next meeting or convention is. We offer the perfect environment to accomplish your goals, no matter what time of the year. Consider Breezy Point for your next spring, summer, fall or winter event. We offer the convenience of a central Minnesota location, and the value of special group packages.

Thank you for considering Breezy Point Resort for your next event. At Breezy Point our customer's satisfaction is our number one priority. Remember this is only a guide, representing suggestions to help us make your next event the best ever. When you are ready to begin the final planning of your event, please let your representative know how we can tailor our services to meet your group's specific needs. We're looking forward to working with you!
